

TRADE LAW

SKILLS FOR THE GLOBAL LAWYER

BUSINESS CONTRACT DRAFTING AND
TRANSACTIONAL PRACTICE (PRIVATE M&A)

28 APRIL – 9 MAY 2025
TURIN, ITALY

Information Note

In a world where legal systems are increasingly interconnected, the ability to draft accurate contracts and navigate complex negotiations is a critical skill for legal professionals. The Skills for the Global Lawyer programme is an intensive two-week, in-person course that offers participants the opportunity to refine their expertise in legal drafting, transactional practice, and negotiation within an international framework.

This course stands out for its practical focus, combining interactive lectures, hands-on drafting exercises, and realistic negotiation simulations. Participants will gain an in-depth understanding of drafting techniques, with particular attention to the use of plain English, as well as strategies to address systemic legal differences. The curriculum also includes comprehensive sessions on private M&A transactions, exploring their legal and commercial dimensions.

Held at the ITCILO Campus in Turin, this programme provides an ideal environment for collaboration and professional growth. Participants will have the chance to connect with leading experts and peers from diverse backgrounds, exchanging ideas and perspectives in a supportive setting. The course is designed to help professionals sharpen their skills and confidently address the challenges of a global legal landscape.

By the end of the programme, participants will be equipped with a versatile set of tools and practical insights, enabling them to make a tangible impact in their field.
