BACKGROUND

The Participatory Gender Audit (PGA) is a guided self-assessment tool used by organizations to reflect and analyse their own gender capacity, challenges and good practices. It is as well a process that promotes organizational learning on gender equality and gender mainstreaming through a participative methodology.

OVERALL OBJECTIVE

WHY IS A CERTIFICATION NECESSARY?

The ILO PGA certification will ensure high quality standards for facilitators implementing the PGA and will provide guarantees to organizations undergoing a PGA that the certified PGA facilitators are meeting or exceeding the quality standards set out by the ITCILO. The certification will provide facilitators with a specific set of know-what and know-how competences, such as:

- applying a gender perspective to analytical work;
- detecting and mapping discrimination at work;
- identifying strategies for advocacy and capacity-building in promoting inclusive workplaces; improving communication competence and organizational capacity to form a coordinated Gender Audit team;
- analysing accountability, evaluation and monitoring systems and instruments in place for gender equality and change management;
- identifying new challenges and possible improvements.

Successful participants will become certified facilitators accredited to conduct PGAs in various types of organizations and will be part of a roster which is used by organizations requesting certified PGA facilitators, thus making their credentials accessible to institutions wishing to undertake a Gender Audit process.

Certified facilitators will have access to:

- all PGA course materials, case studies, training tools and reference materials;
- a network of certified facilitators from around the world who support each other in delivery and in the identification of professional opportunities;
- preferential access to future PGA curricula and ILO referrals.

The certification process is a valuable professional development experience in itself. However, any person who participates in the certification process, regardless of whether the candidate is ultimately certified, will have had an opportunity to learn new training techniques and to strengthen areas of technical weakness.

TARGET AUDIENCE

The certification process is open to:

- Governmental, United Nations and civil-society staff, gender experts and specialists from organizations and enterprises, and professional candidates working on gender mainstreaming;
- Past PGA participants trained by the ITCILO or the ILO or having undertaken similar training.

FACILITATORS

The training and the certification will be carried out by gender experts that have applied the ILO PGA methodology, ran audits and are expert trainers. They have a wide experience in directly assisting national and international institutions worldwide on how to mainstream gender in development programmes and organizations/enterprises.

APPLICATION PORTFOLIO

Only complete application portfolio will be reviewed. It must include:

- the complete online application available at: <https://oarf2.itsilo.org/STF/A9718006/en>;
- a short original essay maximum of 500 words describing gender mainstreaming challenges in the applicant's own organization (if this is not possible describe main challenges in general) and why obtaining the Certification would be an added value to their work.

PRE-REQUISITES

Only qualifying participants will be invited to proceed with enrolling in the certification process. Previous working experience in gender equality and/or women's empowerment related areas of at least two years or having completed relevant post-secondary studies/research studies at the deadline for submission are essential prerequisites for accessing the certification process. Good gender knowledge and analytical capacities are essential. Written and spoken fluency in the language in which the certification programme is held is also essential. Desirable competencies include: experience in preparing and delivering training and knowledge of change management.

Admission: Complete applications will be reviewed by a selection committee and only candidates meeting essential prerequisites will be invited to the certification programme.

CERTIFICATION PROCESS

Candidates to the certification process will have to attend a learning journey which include two mandatory elements:

1. On-line learning phase

The certification programme will cover the following content:

- gender audit process and basic concepts and principles of gender audits and assessments;
- multiple faces of discrimination in the world of work;
- PGA fundamentals and audit process step by step.

Expert tutors will accompany participants, provide guidance and expertise through the online forum, webinars and virtual knowledge exchange.

2. Residential phase in Turin: Examination / Testing Competences

During the F2F component of the course, participants will review the key steps of the PGA methodology and will undertake twofold examinations:

- Written tests;
- Practical exercises and simulations.

The examination will be based on specific performance criteria provided to participant.

ITCILO ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

- Provide relevant expertise as required during the training and examination phases;
- In collaboration with the ILO Gender, Equality and Diversity Branch, manage the roster of certified PGA facilitators;
- Manage a forum for PGA facilitators;
- Keep certified facilitators informed on new approaches, products and opportunities.

PGA FACILITATORS' ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

- Certified facilitators will be required and responsible of informing the ITCILO of audits they have conducted and provide details on their own role. If possible, they should provide details on the size of the audited organizations.
- Certified facilitators will be expected to share their experience through the online community so that their certification may be renewed at the end of the 5- year term, and provide inputs to other certified facilitators introducing a self-appraisal and a peer assist process with colleagues and other stakeholders;
- Maintain a professional conduct as per PGA principles (keep confidentiality, non-judgmental attitude, etc).
- Be aware that ILO certified facilitators carrying out PGA should do so in conformity with ILO's principles, values and standards.

CERTIFICATION MAINTENANCE POLICY

Certified facilitators are expected to put their new skills to work within five years of the date of certification. This is key to ensuring that certified facilitators keep and develop their own competencies over the years. It is also a way for ITCILO to be able to follow-up, monitor and as to maintain a feedback mechanism with the facilitators.

Details on the certification maintenance process will be made available to the selected candidates.
